

759th Contact, Thursday, December 3, 2020, 21.58 hrs

Ptaah About that which we have now discussed, it is probably best to still keep silent, because if it became known and public ...

Billy All right, you do not have to say any more, because it was already clear to me that everything had to stay between us before we started discussing the whole thing. Everything that has been said so far and put on the website, which corresponds to nothing other than something clarifying, is already leading to accusations via telephone and in writing, as well as accusations of scaremongering. This is what we indeed expected, that we would be insulted and ridiculed by such gits, notorious troublemakers, know-it-alls, unteachable ones and conspiracy theorists as well as imbecile ones and other idiots. And promptly this has happened too. As I already told you a week ago, in the middle of the night, at 1.30 a.m. in the morning, two people informed me via telephone that their father, who had called me 8 weeks ago and insultingly called me a fantasist, nutcase and scaremonger, had fallen ill with the rampantly spreading corona disease and died. They wanted to apologise for their father's behaviour, and moreover they had also changed their minds. And additionally, I received this short letter yesterday, which I will read to you in a moment:

Meier is written with upsilon ..., but that does not matter, listen to what is written here:

Dear people of FIGU and Billy Meyer

What is more, in addition to what we already told you when we called you, there are now three more cases of Covid19 in our extended family, and additionally, two of them are very worrying. This is a real unfortune for our family and for our extended family, but we have only ourselves to blame, because we were all of the same opinion as our father, and therefore also took part in demonstrations against the wearing of masks and keeping our distance and also everything else. We now know that you from FIGU and Mr Billy Meyer are right and that we have behaved totally wrongly and have also insulted you wrongly, and we apologise for that. We now know that you, the FIGU and Mr. Billy Meyer, are not engaging in nonsense and scaremongering with your website and that we have to follow the rules which give us possible protection against the Covid19. Now we know that you are right and that you of FIGU bring clear information on your website, which is completely contrary to the only seemingly good information from the FOPH [Federal Office of Public Health] and government and doctors and contrary to the rejecters and conspirators, and which is really good and right, which we know now and therefore we adhere to what you write on your website. ... and so forth.

We wish you and the FIGU all the best and send our regards

On the telephone the people almost effusively thanked me and said that they would get in touch with me again. That is it so far, therefore I am now waiting to see what these people will further report to me if they actually call me again.

That which unfortunately has to be said, on the other hand, is that know-it-all-ism and other nonsense as well as sheer low intelligentum will continue to claim very many corona victims. The fact that their father died of the rampantly spreading corona disease arouses in me feeling for others and Leid (Leid, Leiden: nouns. According to Billy, 'Leid' has the meaning of a 'psychical-moral, negative state' and 'Leiden' means 'ununderstanding, misunderstanding and so on, which affects the moral and psyche'. 'Leid' and 'Leiden' means that the event affects the psyche and therefore is not to be translated with 'suffering' or 'affliction' which pertain more to the physical body.) /suffering for the people, and for them it is probably a bitter lesson, because the callers have not only apologised for their father, but also for themselves and their relatives, who have now apparently all changed their minds.

Ptaah Many human beings on Earth obviously have to endure Leiden first before they come to their intellect and rationality.

Billy This is unfortunately so, namely in manifold respects, because the majority of earthlings only switches on its thinking and tries to use its intellectum and some intellect and rationality when something has happened, but in doing so, it only considers halfway intellectually and rationally the exact moment that has inevitably brought harm or even evil terribleness. Therewith sometimes the whole thing is over, hence the next damage or terribleness is already pre-programmed again, which continues throughout their entire life and for many earthlings makes their lives a Leid, suffering, pain, need, misery and grief. This also applies to all those irrational ones who fall into rowdy behaviour with regard to the rampantly spreading corona disease and who vehemently and knowingly, conspiratorially, imbecilically or otherwise idiotically and as a result of low intelligentum, deny its existence and imbecilically demonstrate against the rampantly spreading disease or corresponding preventive and safety measures, such as curfews, bans on meetings as well as bans on visiting pubs and sports events and so on and so forth. Likewise, all those who have no intellect and no rationality and are pathologically of low intelligentum are to be mentioned, who idiotically fantasise that an authority, an organisation or a state, and so forth, has deliberately created the rampantly spreading disease and is spreading it worldwide in order to exterminate the worker-earthlings to a large extent, so that only the wealthy, rich and governing ones would survive.

With regard to all those who stubbornly resist ordinances or deliberately undermine them, all those rowdies, corona deniers, know-it-alls and conspiracy theorists of all sorts, who organise demonstrations and street terror with giant roars, you have said that all those who take part in them would – in their low intelligentum – neither know nor suspect that the originators of these demonstrations form a grouping that pursues purposes of overthrowing the state. The whole thing is, as you have said, not simply an original roar of a single conspiracy theorist, but a well thought out thing in order to act in such a hostile terrorising form against the state and order so that the state constitution and the basic laws collapse and therethrough anarchy and disorder arise. But this is not only supposed to be steered with regard to the corona-shutdown and lockdown demonstrations, but also with regard to the 'Fridays for Future' demonstrations, the idea of which actually goes back to the little Sweden-Gretchen of low intelligentum. And yet the girl understands as much about the whole of the climate change as the man in the moon and has no idea that the origin of it lies in the overpopulation. This, however, is used by the instigators of the demonstrations, as you have explained, in order to be able to work towards their anarchist plans in this form, without the intelligence service of the countries concerned, in which the demonstrations are organised and carried out, being able to find out that the demonstrations serve the purpose of building up anarchism. That is it now, if I have understood all your statements correctly/rightly.

Ptaah You have understood everything correctly, because already for years now demonstrations have been organised by the mentioned underground movement in Europe, especially in Germany, Switzerland and France, in order to stir up the peoples and cause the constitutions and basic laws to sway and ultimately to undermine them. This is it, if I use your vocabulary to explain. That which concerns everything else you have mentioned corresponds indeed to absolute nonsense, because I know that many human beings on Earth actually think such, and that very many wealthy and rich persons are hated and marginalised by countless ones of the common people as a result of this senseless mode of thinking. This is only one of the reasons, however, why there is such an evil discrepancy between the wealthy, the rich and the working class at the time of the rampantly spreading disease, such that in the future everything will still lead to evil consequences. This is it on the one hand, while, on the other hand, also the various demonstrations of this kind, which are organised underground by anarchist elements for the purpose of collapsing the constitutions and basic laws, will bring forth evil unfortune if the intelligence service of the countries concerned does not become aware of what is effectively intended with certain demonstrations.

Billy I know that because I saw with your father Sfath, what ... While the major religions and sects also play a very important role, as do many criminal organisations, right-wing extremists, the neo-Nazism, left-wing extremists, as well as know-it-alls, conspiracy nuts and other irrational ones of all kinds. In some cases, as you say, not even the ringleaders of the demonstrators know who is behind their own incitement.

Ptaah That is so, because that which is coming, what you are talking about, will be absolutely unavoidable.

Billy I know, yes. – At the moment one question comes to my mind which concerns something else however, namely China, because all around there is no news of the rampantly spreading corona disease from there, because silence is maintained about it. There is also no or only a little general information being given all around, which would actually be important for the populations, as you have explained to me and of which I will perhaps explain the most important part, if I may?

Ptaah You can do that because there is nothing to object to regarding that. Rather, on the contrary, it could be good if you – but if you want, I can also explain it?

Billy No, I can do that and I would like to, because therethrough you can correct me if I remember something wrongly and therefore also do not explain it correctly.

Ptaah That is indeed a good thought with a sense of responsibility, and I know that you would explain everything correctly, but I think it would be better if I explained the necessary things, which I will only do briefly, however, because it has been talked about and explained enough without it really being taken into account by the majority of the leaders of all nations and by a large part of the peoples of all nations, and consequently it has not brought about extensive success.

Billy Yes, fine. However, I would still like to mention that I remember that you said in February, during our private conversation, that by the end of November almost 70 million people worldwide would be infected by the corona virus and 1.5 million would be killed by the rampantly spreading disease. For Switzerland, you said that by the end of November there would be around 320,000 infected ones and even around 4,600 corona deaths, while elsewhere, for example, in Germany, there would be 1.2 million infected ones and around 15,000 or 17,000 corona deaths to be mourned. Worst affected, you said, will be the USA and the South American countries, as, for example, the USA will have to mourn about 270 000 corona deaths, and so forth, at the end of November as a result of the simple-minded president Trample Tramp Trump. However, these are only the official figures, while the number of unreported cases has been much higher since December 2019, when the rampantly spreading disease officially broke out. Also, these official calculations do not include the numbers of corona-infections and corona deaths that have occurred since 1981 when the disease first emerged after the US American ... in his hatred of the US came to an agreement with Mao Zedong, ... as a result of which the country is now, in a late act of revenge, also the worst affected by the rampantly spreading disease, namely through the fault of the imbecilic US President Trample Tramp Trump.

Ptaah About that ..., well, you know. – Regarding what you say regarding my figures in February, it remains to be said that although they will largely come about like that by the end of this month, in the last two days new data has emerged as a result of further calculations and a view into the future. These show that, as a result of the low intelligentum of the governors and the rowdies among the peoples, by the end of November the figures named in February will be exceeded, sometimes by a large margin, namely also in Europe, for example, in Germany, where the rampantly spreading corona disease will far exceed the predicted figure of at least 15,000 deaths by the end of this month and will even be over 17,000.

Billy The information you provide is always based on advance calculations and, under some circumstances, also on a view into the future and is therefore not simply speculative. And the fact that everything will increase and spread even more than before is primarily the responsibility of the governors, because they are absolutely incapable of holding their office and are unable to assess, decide or handle any arising crisis situations, therefore they are absolutely unsuitable for their office.

If I view and consider the whole thing correctly, then the majority of all governors are exactly what you always say about them, nothing more than persons who are incapable of assessment, decision and action, who have an intelligentum like inexperienced adolescents. This is exactly the same as those who, as low-intelligentum, stupid-imbecilic troublemakers and know-it-alls, as well as bean-straw-like low-intelligentum, monkey-like, breast-hammering conspiracy idiots, primitively and stupidly shouting street demonstrators, suffer from a severe idiot-intelligentumlessness. Unfortunately, this is the case everywhere, even including Switzerland, because I see only one single man in government who really masters his office and does it honourably, even if all the good-for-nothings mess around with him and squander the money again that he saves in the national budget.

Well, the failures of the nation, SHE and HE, namely the very governors concerned who are incapable of leading the country and the people, have a culture – excuse me, it is not my wise/form of speaking, but the only way to express it properly – like little scaredy-pants/pants-shitters who do not know what to do, because all of their intelligentum goes into their trousers. This not only with regard to the overall leadership in general, but also in every emergency and crisis situation, as is the case now during the corona period. In fact, in my view these 'governors', as you call them, are mis-governors, zeros and failures in terms of state leadership, who effectively do not know what to do, nor, in their illogicality, can they think sufficiently far ahead to prevent terrible things, nor are they able to assess a situation properly or act rightly. This fact is already demonstrated by the fact alone that they senselessly fail to recognise all the necessities, as in the case of the corona pandemic now, because instead of imposing a national, long-term – and with all the necessary concerns cleared up – intentional, long-lasting lockdown with all the required necessities, such a lockdown is only imposed for 2 or 3 weeks, although 2, 3 or 4 months would correspond to the requirement to bring the pandemic to a standstill. But this is not being done because of a wrong consideration for the economy and the yelling demonstrating troublemakers and so forth; therefore the rampantly spreading disease cannot run its course and can spread again once the lockdown is over and begin to newly spread again rampantly. In addition to this, however, other terrible things are being unleashed, for example, by consciencelessly amassing debt at the expense of the populations by foisting millions and thousand-millions in financial resources at companies, corporations, sports clubs, cultural operators, the hotel and catering industry and all kinds of small and medium-sized enterprises, and so on and so forth, wherethrough the countries and therefore the taxpayers are senselessly burdened financially. These are then the ones who will have to pay for the thousand-millions in debt incurred by the mighty ones of the countries and pay outrageously high taxes for it. In the process, state money is under some circumstances squandered on people, companies and corporations, and so forth, who fraudulently take it all in and laugh about the sheer low intelligentum of the governors who bless/favour them with huge sums of money. This is a natural consequence of the low intelligentum and simple-mindedness of the majority of those governors who are not conscious of their responsibility with regard to the country, and who are also incapable of governing, and who only talk big, imbecilic slogans and thereby consider themselves to be clever, even though their entire cognitive capacity is below zero. They, namely the majority of all governors, lack all the necessary cognitive abilities, which means that they are not conscious of the important processes with regard to their conscious perception, which is why they are not able to carry out consequential, that is to say, logical, thought processes, nor are they able to recognise, understand and correctly assess precise, clear cognitions of effective actual conditions in advance and handle everything accordingly. This also means that these people also lack the necessary intelligentum, which is absolutely essential for the cognitive abilities of the human being, in order to consciously, clearly and correctly perceive the signals from the environment as an effective fact of the reality and its truth and to recognise, fathom, understand and process their sense, in order to make the right decisions from this and to put them into practice.

None of this is inherent to the majority of misgoverning governors, however, because their intelligentum is not sufficient for this purpose, nor is their schooling and university education, which is based only on inadequate theories, but not on facts, its reality and truth; rather only on bare assumptions, suppositions and imaginations. But then, conceitedness is literacy as well (That is a joke and criticism as well, making use of two similar words. It is, probably, a comforting comment about a conceited person. Einbildung = conceitedness; Bildung = education, literacy.).

But I have digressed a little, because it still has to be said that all those persons – indeed no matter whether it is from the smallest to the largest financial aid seekers, who irresponsibly ask the state and those of low intelligentum in government for financial aid – belong to those human beings who line their pockets with huge amounts of money for personal enrichment, but who, on the other hand, fob off those who work and toil for them with low wages. Moreover – and this is a point of total irresponsibility, which is commonplace among beggars, the majority of workers, families, singles and many organisations, companies, corporations and associations and so forth, as well as all governments – namely that they have not created any financial reserves for themselves, but have always squandered their dough/cash and continue to do so. Now the consequence of that is, as is clearly evident in today's Corona era, that all around with every one of them a time of need has come up, because, on the one hand, they have all been mismanaging throughout the ages and, on the other hand, the ones on the top have only cheated into their own pockets. Thus, by and large, there is neither a moral nor a financial security backing/reserve, let alone that a nest egg has been built up for any eventuality.

What is happening with regard to many beggars as well as many organisations, companies, corporations and associations and with practically all governments, who should in principle act as good role models but are doing exactly the opposite, is usually equally true for the people. The people, thus the majority of all employees, families and singles, however, are just as nonsensical and irresponsible in their perception of responsibility as the majority of all bosses, chiefs and owners who determine the economy and who are only concerned with their own well-being and millions or thousand-millions of dollars in assets. The majority of the people, as I have just mentioned, takes each day as it comes, blows and squanders all its money, its often meagre rewards, for travel, luxury and pleasure, stupid things and nonsense. But fanatics also throw their hard-earned money out on the streets for expensive admission fees, contributions and donations to imbecilic public sporting events and so forth, instead of doing sports themselves and thus doing something good for their own health. And no fanatical sports spectator worries about how imbecilic such entrance fees, contributions and donations are, for example, with regard to sports greats of all kinds making a mint with the millions of dollars in contributions, entrance fees and donations, all at the expense of the spectator fanatics of low intelligentum, at whose expense the sportsmen and women can indulge in their pleasure and enrich themselves. The athletes do this instead of engaging in a clean, fair and valuable job, which they, however, shirk work-shyly and rather enrich themselves with the money of the fanatical spectators of low intelligentum, who puff them up and whose intelligentum obviously does not yet extend to normality. Therefore it is probably also no wonder that countless low-intelligentum-audacious ones and brainless ones take to the streets as demonstrators and madly shout about in a completely imbecilic form for some dubious cause, without understanding anything about the whole thing for which they idiotically barmy-stupidly demonstrate and cause terror, because they follow unknowing ones and ones of low intelligentum and senselessly join in howling their simple-minded slogans, just as they also have no idea of what is going on behind the scenes anarchistically at the correspondingly controlled demonstrations. This also applies, for example, to the small, unknowing 'Greta Thunberg' with her 'Fridays for Future' delusion, with which she tried to trivialise truancy. And I say 'Thurbo' because the little brat, who is a stranger to all the facts, has managed to bind countless persons of low intelligentum to herself, to her low intelligentum and her unknowledge, and to demonstratively 'charge' them all with co-howling lust, and who, senselessly, not understanding anything and stupidly and with low intelligentum make a din for something of which they have no idea, just as little Greta Thunberg does not, and thus also not of the fact that there is an anarchist control behind their demos. Their senselessly marked demonstration nonsense has, in addition to everything else, also brought about the fact that the majority of the persons of low intelligentum in the governments are responding to it and are now banging on about climate protection with big words and useless 'good' pretended deeds. This is done by drafting and generating senseless new regulations and laws, as well as blowing millions of euros completely senselessly on imbecilic new and absolutely useless environmental protection measures that do not solve the problem at all, because this problem is fundamentally based solely on the overpopulation, that is to say, on its needs, wishes and desires, which can only be achieved and procured through all-round destructive, annihilating and exterminating machinations on the planet, the nature, its fauna and flora as well as the ecosystems and through the impairment of the atmosphere and the climate.

If all the actions of the governors are examined carefully, one can see, firstly, that they only organise the whole thing, however, in order to protect themselves first and foremost and not to be catapulted out of their offices. And secondly, it is all about appeasing the masses of the ones of low intelligentum of the population, to please them and make them think that something is actually being done against climate change, which in reality, however, is not the case. It is not the case because in reality nothing is being done about the overpopulation and it is not even mentioned, and due to the overpopulation's needs and the fulfilment of them, destructive machinations to all ecosystems have been carried out.

If, however, demonstrations are now being carried out, which are usually anarchistically purpose-driven by certain elements and only serve the purpose of terror but not the real purpose of the stupid going around shouting, then such demonstrations should be prohibited by law, namely also demonstrations like 'Fridays for Future', which are controlled underground. For my part, I have no objection to demonstrations if everything is above board with them and thus effectively real facts are justifiably advocated for and demanded, and if decency and order/correct state are maintained and there is no hidden anarchism behind them; however, if unknowledge and imbecility as well as anarchism are involved, then my approval ends absolutely and in every case.

However, as far as the all-destroying machinations of overpopulation are concerned now, as I have repeatedly predicted the catastrophes in this respect since the 1940s and have tried to make everything known worldwide as a whole via thousands of public entities and so forth, it has been to no avail, because whatever I have undertaken and striven for has been of no use, just as nothing has ever been accepted by any media and nothing has ever been published; rather everything has generally only been thrown to the wind – until today.

All of the overpopulation machinations have led to the atmosphere and the entire nature and its fauna and flora being poisoned, as well as the planet itself being internally and on the surface irrevocably destroyed to a large extent. This, while in nature and its fauna and flora very many things were not only destroyed, but even completely exterminated; but also the climate has been badly affected and will now bring tremendous changes, destruction, annihilation as well as fatalities in the far future and nature will get badly out of control.

All necessary regulations are challenged, terror is organised through demonstrations and destruction is caused. Damage is caused by riots and acts of Gewalt ("There is no English word that conveys the true meaning of the German word 'Gewalt'. 'Gewalt' is the brutal execution of elemental might and force, but it is far above all might and all force. 'Gewalt' exists in different and relative forms, one example being a 'gewalttätige Gesinnung' – expression from the character, personality, thoughts, feelings and emotions that shows the inclination to act with Gewalt. When human beings possess or carry out acts of Gewalt and it is not based in logic, then this usually involves violence, brutality, degradation and is terribly destructive." (Meier, BEA 2010, The Goblet of Truth, page XIII, footnote)), for example, in relation to the rampantly spreading corona disease because thousands are infected with the virus during the demonstrations. But, as the saying goes: low intelligentum and simple-mindedness have no limits and all those who are tainted by it are not open to normal, healthy, intelligent, rational and logical thoughts.

And since this is the case, if I come back to what I have started but not quite finished, then there is still something to be said about the fact that the populations in general also carelessly do nothing in preparation for crisis situations, because, as a rule, they do not even stock up on food for 2 to 3 months so that in an emergency, protecting themselves, they do not have to leave their homes. On the contrary, people get their chow every day anew, go shopping and expose themselves to danger; otherwise they would have to starve if they could no longer buy anything. Such an action is absolutely irresponsible.

Ptaah All that is right and I think that explaining the whole thing according to our latest and very precise research cognitions is extremely important, consequently these latest and subsequent cognitions and their results are also to be published immediately on the FIGU website as soon as you have retrieved and written down our entire conversation. As usual, I want to present all my explanations about it in a generally simple language without technical terms, in order to make the whole thing understandable – as I have learned from you – also to the majority of the non-academically educated population. Now, however, I want to mention that which we first talked about.

1. Infection by the corona disease through inhalation

A. The rampantly spreading corona disease is mainly caused by the inhalation of the corona virus in the form of speech droplets and respiratory aerosols as well as by contact with saliva, but also by various other forms of infection, such as the following:

B. Corona virus disease due to handling, touching, that is to say, direct contact of/with infected ones

- a. By directly touching corona infected ones.
- b. Direct contact with clothing, door handles, goods and objects and so forth, which have been contaminated as a result of excreted speech droplets, saliva, blood and respiratory aerosols from human beings infected with the corona virus.
- c. The handling, that is to say, touching of any corona virus-contaminated surface of objects, goods, merchandise, clothing or food and so forth, to which the virus adheres, can, under some circumstances, result in an infection if thereafter the eyes, nose, mouth, an open wound, open pores or abrasions are touched, wherethrough the penetration of the body by the virus is inevitably made possible.
- d. The residues of corona viruses adhering to objects, goods, merchandise and clothing and so forth, can remain contaminating and active for varying lengths of time, namely ranging from hours to days, weeks or months, depending on the case, which, however, is extremely rare and is determined by various prevailing climatic and environmental factors. Likewise in this regard the long-term survival of the virus depends on the conditions of the material of the objects, their surfaces, temperature and humidity and so forth.

The probability, however, that a person infected with the rampantly spreading corona disease soils, that is to say, contaminates objects, foodstuffs or any goods and so forth with the corona virus to such an extent that therethrough over a longer period of time an infection can occur is, as I have explained, relatively small and rare, but for a short period of time, counted in a few hours, is absolutely acutely possible; consequently a disinfection of objects, speaking devices and door handles, and so forth, with a suitable high-percentage decontaminant is necessary and important.

- e. Special note: with regard to the fact that health authorities, virologists, epidemiologists and immunologists and so forth, do not make any risk assessment with regard to infection via objects, goods, clothing, food, goods, animals and livestock that are contaminated with the virus and are sources of infection, and that this is unlikely, corresponds to an irresponsible false assertion and deception. Although an infection by the corona virus via goods, merchandise, animals and livestock, and indeed also pets and so forth, as mentioned above, is only slight and rare, the fact of a possible infection nevertheless corresponds to reality. Therefore, I want to repeat the following again about the whole:

For how long the corona virus survives on surfaces of objects, fruits, vegetables, foodstuffs and goods of all kinds is, according to our research results and cognitions, absolutely different depending on the mutation type of the virus as well as the goods and the environmental conditions; consequently the adherence and the infecting effect of the virus can be from a few hours or days to weeks or months; but the virus can also survive years and an endless time under the most ideal conditions. This is basically dependent on the overall atmospheric and climatic conditions, in particular also the surfaces, temperature, humidity and other influences. The probability, however, that a human being infected by the corona virus will contaminate any goods with the virus is very low and extremely rare. From that it arises, as our latest unequivocal research results show, that the risk of infection from goods of any kind is very low and rare, namely even when a transport of supplied or imported food, clothing, goods and other commodities of any kind is exposed to any diverse special conditions and temperatures.

2. The corona virus cannot die

The virus cannot die or be killed because it is not a life form, but an infectious organic structure that spreads as a virion outside of cells through a transmission; however, it can only multiply and cause terrible things exclusively within a suitable host cell. The virus itself also does not consist of one or more cells, rather it is, as I explained, a lifeless infectious organic structure.

3. Risk of infection through the digestive system

Our sciences show the facts that, with regard to the risk of infection, persons, animals and other creatures affected by the corona virus also shed the corona pathogen through their excrement and spread it in a contaminating form, therefore the virus can spread through various circumstances and be transmitted to human beings and cause infections, which is the same as through vomit expulsion.

4. Inheritance of the corona virus

A further scientific cognition of ours shows the fact that in the field of molecules basic phenomena of certain characteristics of the corona virus can also be inherited by the offspring, which means that women suffering from the rampantly spreading corona disease transmit the virus to their fruit and later give birth to offspring infected by corona in the womb. This is the case while also men who are infected with the corona virus ejaculate it through their sperm into the vaginal canal of their sexual partner during orgasm, after which it is transported into the vaginal vault of the woman in order to reach the fallopian tubes via the uterus and fertilise an egg released from the ovary, which is infected with the corona virus through the sperm, resulting in the birth of offspring infected with corona, which, as a result of our research in this area, we call corona infants, that is to say, corona children.

5. Corona virus disease without symptoms but with antibodies

Our scientific and very precise cognitions show that worldwide, depending on the country and the immune constitution and so forth of its population, 7-11% will be infected by the corona virus, and indeed without the infected ones themselves noticing anything about it because no actual symptoms of the rampantly spreading disease occur, just as the infection with the rampantly spreading disease cannot be medically detected, but only becomes verifiable when recognisable antibodies form and can be ascertained.

6. Symptoms of the rampantly spreading corona disease

The rampantly spreading corona disease is much more diverse in the nature of its symptoms than is assumed by the terrestrial virologists and all other professionals, with the result that occurring ailments and diseases are wrongly defined as known medical conditions and are therefore wrongly treated, which leads to many deaths.

The occurring symptoms of the rampantly spreading corona disease vary, depending on the immune status of the human being as well as the health status, organic stability, blood group, morality and state of the psyche and so forth; consequently, various preliminary forms can indicate an infection, such as:

Headaches
 Coughing
 Dizziness
 Nausea
 Chest pain
 Heart complaints
 Swallowing problems
 Loss of taste/ageusia
 Change of taste
 Vision impairment
 Indigestion
 Impaired hearing
 Changes in terms of thoughts, feelings and psyche
 Difficulties concentrating
 Fever
 Breathing difficulties
 Coordination impairment
 Speech difficulties
 Motor disorders
 Vertigo
 Diarrhoea

7. Number of cases

The particularly rapid and strong increase in the number of cases of the 2nd wave of the rampantly spreading corona disease is due to the fact that the pathogen could not circulate for weeks due to the lockdown practice, but could be kept under control to a certain extent. However, since the curfews were neglected and also abrogated again, in a form showing lack of intelligentum, the corona virus could, can and will quickly spread worldwide again in a very devastating form and now cause a much greater terribleness and claim a very high number of lives by the end of November, which will rise to the amount of 1.6 million by the end of this month of November – however, only officially, because the number of unreported cases will be much higher, as has also been the case so far. Along with this, also by the end of the month of November, about 65 million official corona cases will have been reported on Earth.

8. Basic civil rights laws are wrong for crisis situations

Even before the leaders of the countries and those responsible for the countries as well as the authorities implemented the first deficient and very lax measures to contain the rampantly spreading disease, it would have been necessary – contrary to those basic rights and so forth that guarantee free civil freedom of action – to rigorously enforce a curfew and therewith all necessary security measures. The health security of a population, as well as that of an individual human being, is in any case to be appreciated as a priority in the foreground and should never be allowed to be bent by legislation, for example, namely by an ill-considered wrong basic law.

In order to not only contain the rampantly spreading corona disease, but to stop it and let it run its course, there is a need for a revision of a wrong fundamental right in order to abrogate a civil freedom of action through which intellectless and rationality-less action is taken and therewith health and life are endangered. This should have been done a month earlier before the first measures were taken, wherethrough the entire situation could have been controlled and the further spread of the rampantly spreading disease prevented and consequently it would not have escalated.

9. Different corona symptoms with the corona virus

The corona virus does not cause the same symptoms in every human being; consequently different effects occur in different persons. However, with most infected human beings mild to moderate symptoms develop that resolve spontaneously after some time and do not cause severe symptoms and do not require any hospitalisation. After a certain period of time the entire illness subsides again, therefore a recovery takes place which, however, does not guarantee immunity, regardless of the development of antibodies, thus no so-called herd immunity comes about, rather a new infection can be just as probable as a new outbreak of the rampantly spreading disease through virus impulses stored in the organs, which up to the present time are still absolutely unknown to all terrestrial experts of virology, immunology, epidemiology and medicine and are neither recognisable nor detectable.

10. The corona virus mutates from time to time

The corona virus, which mutates or changes from time to time again and again is insidious and does not guarantee that after recovery one has actually recovered effectively. This is because, according to exact research results, virus impulses are deposited in the human organism, especially in the organs affected by the rampantly spreading disease, whereafter after recovery a repeat-susceptibility remains in every case and without exception in every recovered person; consequently a new infection or a repeat-outbreak of the rampantly spreading disease is likely and can occur sooner or later.

The terrestrial virologists and epidemiologists and so forth, as well as the entire medical profession of all fields, have no idea, let alone cognition or even effective knowledge, of the researched fact that an impulse deposit of the rampantly spreading disease can occur which can lead to a renewed infection even after recovery and the rampantly spreading disease can therefore break out again.

11. Long-term effects of the rampantly spreading corona disease

An illness caused by the corona virus will in any case result in long-term consequences of some kind, in which case these usually settle and establish themselves in the form of an impulse deposit in the organs that are affected by the rampantly spreading disease, which, however, is as yet unknown to the entire terrestrial medicine and will also remain so for a long time to come.

Long-term effects from the rampantly spreading corona disease, however, result in any case in the forms known to the entire terrestrial medicine, while the after-effects of the rampantly spreading corona disease can be manifold, such as:

- Impairment of consciousness
- Predisposition to cancer
- Arterial hypertension (high blood pressure)
- Coronary heart disease
- Dementia: chronic brain disease; loss of cognitive abilities; memory loss
- Neuro-degenerative vascular diseases of the brain
- Brain infections/brain diseases
- Chronic bowel diseases
- Organ damages
- Lung diseases
- Hormone disorders
- Disorders of the bowels, intestines
- Joint ailments
- Hair loss
- Hereditary impairments
- Thyroid diseases
- Iron deficiency
- Susceptibility to infections
- Diabetes mellitus
- Medication intolerance
- Sensitivity to the rays of the sun
- Food intolerance
- Protein intolerance
- Conjunctivitis
- Depression
- Headaches/migraine
- Problems with vision, that is to say, eyes and so forth

12. Spread of the rampantly spreading corona disease

As we have ascertained, at the time of the official outbreak of the rampantly spreading corona disease, no official information was disseminated by the leaders and authorities to the populations of all countries worldwide, nor has this been done to date. Even when the first information became known worldwide through the public media at the beginning of the year, irresponsibly no official and explanatory information about the various forms of contagiousness and risk of infection by the rampantly spreading corona disease was issued by government leaders. There was also no necessary and important information with regard to the various symptoms that appear as well as the effects of the rampantly spreading disease on the immune system and the entire organ system, as well as on the psyche and the variously emerging behaviours of the human beings with regard to the pros and cons of views and opinions. Also, with regard to the foreseeable positive and negative reactions, views, opinions and attitudes of the citizenry, absolutely no necessary information and therefore no correct behaviour with regard to appropriate security behaviour was disseminated. The absolutely irresponsible omission of this necessary information has so far brought very much suffering, grief and harm all around the globe, which will also continue in this form in the future because the old form of doing things will be continued against all intellect and every rationality.

Demonstrations and actions – that are out of the control of the good human nature – of conscienceless and irresponsible truth-denying demonstration addicts, phrase-mongers, know-it-alls and conspiracy theorists, have already led – and will continue to lead – to hundreds of thousands of human beings worldwide succumbing to the rampantly spreading corona disease. This happened – just as further hundreds of thousands of new contagions are brought about in the now beginning month of November – due to the fault of the undiscerning demonstrating loudmouths, show-offs, blowhards, self-opinionated ones and big-mouths, and will continue to claim tens of thousands of lives of all ages.

Around the world nothing was done by the governors and authorities to prevent the terribleness, indeed neither publicly nor directly to the populations in their households, and effectively no intentional information at all was given with regard to all conceivable necessities, as should have been the duty of responsibility of every government and authority, but was not carried out by any single government office or authority. That which emerged overall – according to our worldwide very precise and month-long observations and clarifications – with regard to the most urgently needed clarification and all information concerning the rampantly spreading corona disease for the populations of all countries by the irresponsible governors and authorities, was and is frightening. This is because virtually nothing has been done in the frame of education and information by these authorities responsible for everything, as it should have been done. Only on certain internet websites have the responsible authorities published, and still publish, a few technical explanations which are, moreover, irrelevant as well as incomprehensible for many or even the majority of the population, in a language presentation which – as you say in each case – looks like Bohemian forests to the readers, because they cannot see the forest for the trees. And as you explained thereto in each case, which I thought was good, the sense of it was – if I now transpose the whole of what has been said to make it comprehensible – that the whole content of the government's information-weak publications is interwoven with much irrelevant and confusing ballast and rubbish such that it cannot be coordinated and consequently also not understood by the potential readership.

All extremely important information and explanations regarding the form in which the infection and spreading of the rampantly spreading disease basically takes place, works and gets out of the control of the good human nature, as well as the fact that the rampantly spreading corona disease is neither a conspiracy nor a conspiracy theory, has – since the rampantly spreading disease has become officially known – not been made known in December 2019 nor in January and February 2020 and therefore has not been made public by any official information agencies, which are important for the population. Neither have the populations had any of the most important and necessary information delivered to their homes, therefore no effectively informative pamphlets have been written and nothing necessarily important has been announced, nor has the fact that the corona virus spreads and infects in various forms, such as by:

A. Infections through inhalation, droplets, aerosols, saliva and contact:

- a. Coughing
- b. Blowing
- c. Sneezing
- d. Speaking
- e. Yelling
- f. Exhaling
- g. Touching of body
- h. Excrements
- i. Touching of items, goods, merchandise (rare)
- j. Transmission by air across several metres depending on the wind (atmospheric aerosols)
- k. Food (rare)
- l. Touch-contact with infected animals and creatures (rare)
- m. Body perspiration (sweat)

B. Atmospheric-aerosols

- a. Normal atmospheric aerosols, which float freely in the atmosphere but which – through the atmosphere/air and depending on the wind movement – are transmitted from human beings suffering from the rampantly spreading corona disease, infecting other human beings within a close radius of a few square metres by a direct droplet expulsion, that is to say, respiratory aerosol emission.
- b. The corona virus is decidedly much more infectious than is generally assumed by the entire league of medical virology, epidemiology and infectiology and so forth, because the manifold possibilities of infection are much more widespread than is assumed.

13. Spread of the rampantly spreading corona disease

The corona virus does not only spread through the mentioned direct and indirect infections, because other infectious ways are also decisive, for example, when, under certain circumstances, contamination takes place through the digestive system, but also through contact with certain animal species that are carriers of the corona virus under some circumstances. And this fact is effectively true, contrary to all negations and all pathological know-it-all-ism of incompetent experts, even if this factuality is erroneously contradicted and, contrary to the truth, the opposite is vehemently asserted by virologists, epidemiologists, physicians and infectiologists and so forth, who are poor in cognition, intellect and rationality.

If the reality is viewed, then one can see that effectively certain animal species and also some creatures are susceptible to the corona virus and can consequently become infected and also spread the virus to human beings. And if they come into close proximity to a person, come into contact with that person directly or indirectly via sound droplets, respiratory aerosols, saliva or bite wounds, then human beings are inevitably also infected in this form. This is just as the virus is also transmitted in closed rooms by inhaling air contaminated with viruses. It is also to be heeded that infection can occur through eating contaminated food and coming into contact with contaminated objects and so forth, although these two possibilities are, however, rather to be regarded as rare.

14. Beginning of the corona time

The actual most difficult time of the corona pandemic is only now beginning and will claim many lives around the globe, because the majority of all governors, as a result of low intelligentum and not understanding the rampantly spreading disease, will continue to act incorrectly and will in this regard remain just as irresponsible as those who have fallen to neurasthenia querulatoria, that is to say, trouble making. To this belong also all those who indulge in low intelligentum, who, on the one hand, irresponsibly serve as governors, but also all those of the populations who rebel against the decreed security regulations that are halfway useful. This applies to all low-intelligentum-audacious know-it-alls, brawlers, troublemakers, self-opinionated ones as well as all fantasy conspirators, pathological litigants, that is to say, someone who takes every opportunity to litigate, shysters and litigants who senselessly burden the authorities and the courts. These human beings lack intelligentum to a great extent and thus lack intelligence and rationality, which has the consequence that they harm themselves and bring themselves to the grave, because, as a rule, it is they themselves who, as a result of their lack of intelligentum, carelessly infect themselves with the virus and under some circumstances die of the rampantly spreading disease. Such persons do not correspond to normal rowdies, but not seldom suffer from a personality disorder, behind which often a disease is hidden, which corresponds to psychopathy, collective rowdiness, character neurosis, hysteria, an obsessive-compulsive disorder and, fundamentally, a profound religious belief-delusion. There are different types of individual and collective rowdies of both sexes, for example, psychological, sociological and psychiatric rowdies, as well as political right-wing and left-wing rowdies, character rowdies, belief rowdies and demonstration rowdies and so on, all of whom live in a timelessly continuous defence mode.

15. Antibody studies

As far as antibody studies are concerned, which are carried out worldwide by virologists, epidemiologists and medical practitioners and so forth, they all underestimate the number of infected ones by far, because this is much higher than is assumed. The number of persons who have died from the rampantly spreading corona disease is also very much higher than is assumed, because the first corona victims were registered by us as early as 1981, whereby these have become more and more in the last 40 years due to the constant changes or mutations of the virus and, according to our observations, have risen to more than 17.3 million today.

16. Rumour spreading, hysteria, conspiracy theories

As has been the case since time immemorial, rumours spread very quickly, especially in relation to a disease and thus also to an epidemic or pandemic, in which case conspiracy theories, know-it-all-ism, nonsense claims and lies as well as deliberate purposeful and panic-promoting lies are being raised immediately, triggering collective states of anxiety and hysteria which, once called forth, can hardly or no longer be resolved and under some circumstances cause a lot of terribleness. This is clearly also the case with regard to the rampantly spreading corona disease, as can be seen by the low-intelligentum-audacious, senseless and completely irresponsible, reckless and the rampantly spreading disease-promoting corona demonstrations, which are directed against prescribed safety precautions and dangerously promote corona mass-infections.

That is the main thing I have to say today with regard to the rampantly spreading corona disease, although there would still be very much more to explain, but all of it would go too far, for which my available time would not be sufficient because I still have a duty to perform.

Billy Well, I do not want to keep pestering you, but if I may ask you something or two or three more questions?

Ptaah Of course, because I am not in such a hurry now, because what I said in this regard only concerned further explanations regarding the rampantly spreading corona disease.

Billy I see. Good, and while we are at it: Like me, you always speak of the rampantly spreading corona disease, but not of the corona pandemic. Why? For myself, I use the term 'rampantly spreading disease' because from my understanding the term 'pandemic' does not produce the necessary understanding in the human beings for the spreading danger of the whole of a rampantly spreading disease. This is regardless of the fact that 'pandemic' as an umbrella term describes a rampantly spreading disease that encompasses many countries and is therefore usually global, which in turn is nothing other than an epidemic of great proportions that has gotten badly out of control.

Ptaah That is of course right, and indeed also your understanding of the whole thing, which is also mine, wherefore, as you do, I likewise speak of rampantly spreading disease and not pandemic.

Billy Well, then that is clear. Then the following: we have published all the relevant information that you have given us, on our website, to which we have received good feedback from various countries in the form of thank-you calls, as well as declarations that the callers would strictly adhere to the given safety advice. Furthermore, it was often bemoaned that such important information as we publish from the FIGU is neither publicised in their own country nor can they find it otherwise on the internet. Again and again it was said that I should pass on to you and the Plejaren in general altogether their great thanks, as well as to all our FIGU members worldwide, namely even if, for example, the passive members were not directly involved in our FIGU work and not in the information put on the net, but would nevertheless participate indirectly, because they, those calling the centre, had been made aware of our FIGU website and so forth by FIGU passive members.

Ptaah That is very gratifying. And for the words of thanks addressed to us, I return our thanks to all persons, and especially also my personal thanks to all who address their words of thanks through you to me and to all of us. And what you mentioned elsewhere, that is indeed as you said.

Billy Well, all the people around the world who have called me and thanked you and all of you can now read your thanks on our website. Then the question, what do you think about the particularly rapid and strong increase in the number of corona cases in Europe?

Ptaah You answered your question yourself already at the beginning of our conversation by saying that the corona pathogen could only circulate at a reduced rate due to the lockdown. However, the fact that the rampantly spreading corona disease was able to spread quickly and is now rampant and that it will now spread even faster than before in this new month and claim many thousands of lives, is, on the one hand, due to the sheer low intelligentum, that is to say, the illogical thoughtlessness or the non-thinking of the governors. On the other hand, the whole terribleness that was illogically called forth also results from the low intelligentum and lack of intelligentum of all those who you call brainless, who, as truth believers, reveal their lack of intellect and rationality with demonstrations, as well as their inability to produce even one single clear thought. Consequently, they are also blind in their perception and do not realise and comprehend that they themselves are the greatest victims of the rampantly spreading corona disease, as you have already predicted. Basically, they are indeed the ones who will be infected by the rampantly spreading corona disease, due to their demonstrative gatherings that show double bean-straw-like low intelligentum, their group formation and their disregard for all caution regarding the disease and who will either die from it or suffer from its long-term effects for the rest of their lives, as you have already said.

Billy Thanks. So we are of the same opinion. And regarding what you said about the demonstrators being of bean-straw-like low intelligentum, I think that instead of demonstrating stupidly-imbecilically, shouting about and openly showing their self-shaming simple-mindedness and so forth, it would be more important for all these brainless, these totally worthless elements, to do something really useful and valuable and to keep with human respect, honour, dignity and correct state. They can do this by doing everything conceivably and permissibly possible against all war and terror, all Gewalt and felony, as well as only the very best for peace, freedom, the blossoming again of nature, its fauna and flora, and also the functioning of all ecosystems and the calm of the planet itself. Only through this could the state of the atmosphere and the climate change for the better and good again. But the whole thing would also require that the overpopulation be drastically reduced by a worldwide and controlled birth stop lasting several years and that a birth control also be introduced. If all god-delusion-believers of all religions as well as all other delusional believers of any other eminence for worshiping – such as an ox, donkey, chicken or monkey, such as the Hindu monkey god Hanumān – would consider the immense mass of overpopulation, then something could change for the better in this regard. If special consideration were given to the lies of the irrational and confused Christianity, which in its pathological belief in god and in the irrational delusion of the 'go forth and multiply', fantasised by a psychically ill erotomaniac, then it would be recognised that, as a result of the god-delusion belief, the Earth has developed an exaggerated intercourse-belief-addiction, from which a habitual copulation has been formed. However, the whole of this does not only concern the simple populations of all countries, but it reaches up to the highest, the rulers, as well as to the wealthy and rich, up to the bigwigs of all religions and sects, as in Christianity from the simple preacher to the priest to the pope and his clergy, as history has also proven since time immemorial. Many of these 'reverends', that is to say clerics, have begotten countless offspring and, due to their erotomania, have contributed to the endless growth of overpopulation throughout the ages. However, this is still being 'nurtured' in this form today – as is paedophilia – which, however, is deliberately concealed and swept under the carpet.

Pornocracy, that is to say, mistress rule or the influence of mistresses on the rulers, also contributed very much to the whole thing of the enormous growth of overpopulation. That, however, is a story in itself, which shows that countless offspring were also brought into the world in this vein and the overpopulation was driven up. However, in relation to the papacy, history shows that in Christianity the periods of the papacy and the clergy were always of an erotomania nature, therefore the whole thing actually effectively corresponds to erotomania times, while power games and intrigues were also involved, up to treacherous murder. The early 10th century, for example, which began with Pope Sergius III in the year 904, also ended in this form in 963, namely with the death of Pope John XII who was killed, for which the term 'Saeculum obscurum', that is to say, 'dark century' was then coined for this time in the 16th century.

Quite especially during the erotomania period, the popes and various rulers of Rome were under the direct might-position-control of some noble mistresses. Theodora I and her daughters Marozia and Theodora II were of quite particular importance. At that time, the popes only had little backbones of their own and could only keep their erotomaniac Ausartungen (Ausartung: noun (pl Ausartungen) When 'Ausartung' is spoken of, no degeneration, that is to say, no disintegration of the genes, is meant. It is rather the human being's good nature badly falling away, that is to say, the good human nature has gotten very badly out of control.) under control and, moreover, could only live them out with the equally erotomaniac Roman noble mistresses to whom they were in bondage and who demanded that the popes beget 'holy' offspring for them. This fact, however, was vehemently concealed from the outside world and anyone who did let something about it be known was simply muzzled and eliminated; consequently only a few things got out, such as that which was also officially made public and handed down, which, however, cost various human lives, about which, however, there is the following list of mistresses-popes who were dependent on their erotomaniac coercive lovers:

Sergius III. (904-911), lover of Marozia, father of John XI.
 Anastasius III. (911-913)
 Lando (913-914)
 John X. (914-928), incarcerated and murdered at the instigation of Marozia
 Leo VI. (928-928)
 Stephan VII. (928-931)
 Johannes XI. (931-935), son of Sergius III. and Marozia
 Leo VII. (936-939)
 Stephan VIII. (939-942)
 Marinus II. (942-946)
 Agapitus II. (946-955)
 Johannes XII. (955-963), grand-son of Marozia, elected pope at the age of 17

As far as all the traditions from these bygone times are concerned, which were mostly recorded by the critic of the conditions in Rome, Bishop Liutprand of Cremona, they correspond, as a rule, to that which really happened at that time, but which – how could it be otherwise – is denied by negators of everything and anything, envious ones, doubters and know-it-alls and so forth. And since it is usually not possible to verify the traditions through research, some or all of it is called into question, namely even when contemporary witnesses can testify to something through their word of honour, but are simply disregarded or are insulted as liars.

The fact is, however, that at that time Theodora I and Marozia were the actual political mighty ones of the state in Rome, who wielded their clubs, 'cranked out' their spouses and coercively had their sexual desires fulfilled by the popes in order to have 'holy' offspring – a practice that secretly still functions today, while, however, the form and status of the copulating ones and recipients has changed somewhat and the whole thing has taken on a more popular form, although it may still be assumed that it happens from the preacher right to the highest one, and from the simplest to the most high-born, and thus also with everyone in between.

Now, with regard to the Roman period, it should still be said that Marozia assassinated Pope John X, who had been brought into office by her mother Theodora I, and that she was not only the coercive mistress but also the lover of Pope Sergius III, who fell incurably in love with her and also had to father her a 'holy' son, who later sat on the throne of Peter as Pope John XI, while his mother Marozia made an effort to bring her favourite, Leo VI, to a position of might.

If one now thinks a little rationally about these early stories, then one can see that in the course of the last 2 millennia, pornocracy, that is to say, rule by mistress, also led to completely overpopulating the Earth and that everything was done for it. On the other hand, from that resulted that nature, fauna and flora as well as all ecosystems were inevitably influenced in a destructive form, much was eliminated, and countless things were destroyed or exterminated due to the completely excessive humanity. The atmosphere is now dangerously poisoned and is also affecting the climate and forcing it into an epochal change through which now and henceforth tremendous natural catastrophes and an inner eruptive upheaval of the planet are taking place. As a result, the planet as a whole is constantly experiencing more and more frequent and enormous terribleness, and indeed all this solely as a result of the mass of the overpopulation, which – through its endlessly increasing needs, desires and cravings and so forth – is destroying the planet internally and externally as well as destroying and exterminating nature, the plant, animal and animal kingdoms, and putting all ecosystems out of action, as well as tormenting the atmosphere and the climate. And possibly until the collapse, the final collapse, wherethrough then, under some circumstances, all life on Earth is wiped out as I have been predicting since the 1940s, but which no one has wanted to hear since then and which also today no one or hardly anyone wants to hear – but perhaps when it is too late.

Due to the low intelligentum and the uncontrolled libidinous desire and behaviour of countless earthlings, which is somehow out of the control of the good human nature, the Earth is becoming more and more and endlessly overpopulated. This also results in and increases religious-sectarian and racist hatred, such as against persons of other beliefs and other ethnic groups, that is to say, other indigenous human beings and peoples, who are viewed and considered both religiously and politically as ethnic scum worldwide and are hated, ostracised, insulted, robbed, persecuted, warred against and murdered. The term 'ethnicity' alone, which means 'people' in Greek, is sufficient for god-delusion believers, political irrational ones and extremists of all kinds of Ausartung to discriminate against individual human beings, groups of human beings or entire peoples, to insult, persecute, ruin or murder them on the basis of their origin, culture, language, religion, history and/or economic system. And all this has been happening since time immemorial, just as it is happening today, as it is again emerging more and more and expanding into the future, namely in relation to the growth of overpopulation. Therefore it is happening because the number of delusional believers, who are becoming more and more fanatical, is also increasing and with it one believer of a religion or sect fanatically setting upon believers of another religion or sect. In that case very often political delusions also play a role, as in the case of the entire Nazi system the hatred against Judaism, which, coming from Christianity, already started 2000 years ago and cost countless lives, ultimately due to Hitler's and Himmler's genocidal delusion, which still continues to exist today due to the neo-Nazis in many places in the world, namely not only in Germany but worldwide, for example, in Russia, where no other Eastern European country has such a Gewalt-prepared/willing neo-Nazi scene as Russia. There is incitement against all those of non-Russian origin; excesses of Gewalt are also not uncommon. For years, videos containing calls to kill and execution have been circulating on the internet and although the Ukraine conflict has divided the right-wing extremist scene, its potential for Gewalt remains unbroken.

Militant right-wing extremists have been drawing attention to themselves through acts of Gewalt for many years, with hundreds of human beings murdered in the last 10 years as a result of right-wing terror. Thousands of others have been attacked and often significantly injured. The largest part of the victims stems from Central Asia and the Caucasus, however, also Antifa activists as well as homeless persons, homosexuals and judges were also attacked, injured or killed. There exists in no other Eastern European country such a Gewalt-ready neo-Nazi scene as Russia's, which counts tens of thousands of members. The Russian Ministry of the Interior's Department for Countering Extremism estimated as early as 2010 that at least 150 active militant neo-Nazi groups exist, indeed with numbers increasing. Experts on right-wing extremism from the Moscow Centre for Information and Analysis (SOVA) already pointed out some time ago that it is not possible to determine the exact number of existing groups, nor is it possible to calculate the exact number of members.

Likewise also groups of this kind exist in the USA, such as the 'Aryan Brotherhood', also called 'The Brand', 'Alice Baker' or 'One-Two' (AB). This racist and neo-Nazi US-American gang was founded in 1967 in the 'San Quentin State Prison' in California.

Furthermore, there is the Ku Klux Klan (KKK) in the USA, which, as a racist right-wing extremist secret society using acts of Gewalt, is still active today and likewise performs its terrorist and murderous mischief.

Particularly in the first half of the 20th century, this secret society was especially active in the USA, while consciencelessly using malicious terrorist means to, first and foremost, attack the equal rights of Afro-Americans and to murder.

The Ku Klux Klan, whose men distinguished themselves with white hoods and burning crosses, ruled, for example, a small town in northern Florida where they rode through the fields at night and hunted down Afro-Americans to hang them from trees, while hardly anyone, however, dared to talk about it, let alone do anything about it.

Even today, this felonious racist secret society in the USA has an estimated 5000 to 8000 or more members, while this Klan is still publicly tolerated and also maintains contacts with right-wing extremists abroad, namely especially in Germany.

All such radical right-wing groups and their members, such as the Alt-Right movement or the Ku Klux Klan and so forth, as a rule, belong to the Protestant Christianity and consider themselves to be good Christians who, however, live under the delusion that they absolutely have to exercise 'white supremacy', thus a white domination, because only the white race – Hitler and his neo-Nazis send their regards – is supposed to have an absolute right to dominate in and over America. This was actually also the case, namely until the liberation of the slaves in 1865. This happened after the end of the Secession War, that is to say, the American Civil War from 1861 to 1865 between the Northern and Southern states, after which the liberation of the slaves was decided and came about through the 13th Amendment to the Constitution in 1865, which served as the foundation of any social order.

(Addendum from Wikipedia: The Thirteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America definitively abolished slavery and forced labour, except for offenders, throughout the territory of the United States. It was passed by Congress on January 31, 1865, and submitted to the states for ratification and came into force on December 18, 1865. When it was passed, the Thirteenth Amendment was the first amendment in more than 60 years. Together with the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments that followed it, it forms the Reconstruction Amendments adopted after the War of Secession).

However, the Ku Klux Klan nevertheless continues on, while in the last century, especially in 1995, also terrorising Afro-Americans, other human beings of colour as well as Jews, Catholics and homosexuals with vicious racial hate speech. And even today, torture, flogging, arson, lynching and open murder, especially of Afro-Americans, are part of the terrorist instruments of the Ku Klux Klan, while, to this day, its members still walk around openly in white hoods, unhindered by any law, shouting their inflammatory and hate tirades, just as they can still carry out their terror in secret, unscathed by any laws. Although the Ku Klux Klan was banned by law in 1871, it was newly established in the mid-1920s, as a result of which the whole thing continues without any legal action being taken against it, because even judges and politicians of national importance belong to this Klan and protect it.

The hatred and desire for revenge against those who are of another religion, who think differently and those of other ethnic groups have been lurking secretly since time immemorial, hidden and embedded in the deepest depths of character in all god-believers or other believers of any kind of religious-sectarian orientation, as well as in political believers, in rowdies, and also very viciously in all others who stubbornly resist ordinances of all kinds.

The hatred that is constantly nagging under the surface together with a vengefulness that is equally paired and under the surface of the character, which the believers are not conscious of, are constantly lurking for an outbreak, for strife, in order to be able to suddenly erupt uncontrollably. And if hatred and revenge are triggered, then everything leads very quickly to Gewalt, to the death penalty, to war, terror and torture as well as to murder and manslaughter, without the god-delusion believers, who are befallen by it, having the slightest idea that all this – despite their religious-sectarian delusional belief – is mouldering along deeply hidden in their character and immediately breaks through to the outside and wreaks havoc as soon as even the slightest cause comes up for it. All this has been inherent in all god-believers from the ground up since time immemorial, predetermined by delusions of an alleged god who is idiotically and imbecilically ascribed love, goodness and leniency and at the same time revenge, punishment, Gewalt as well as advocacy and blessing of war and murder. And all god-believing human beings have indulgently fallen to this imbecility, in which case they do not notice with regard to anything and everything that all is against their own thoughts and feelings as well as against all intellect, all rationality, against all reality and truth as well as against life in general and against all humanity and justice. And this is the case from the ground up and indeed with every believer, although no one perceives or understands this, because everyone is blinded and deaf due to his/her belief. And if a believer were to recognise, fathom and understand this truth, he/she would sink into the ground and rot from shame and his/her own low intelligentum. But unfortunately, it has been like this since time immemorial, namely that the majority of earthlings have fallen prey to a god-delusion belief and consequently cannot really think, therefore they remain of low intelligentum. And additionally, the human beings of today and tomorrow are becoming more and more unable to live, increasingly psychically unstable and ill, because they have completely unlearned how to think, consider, decide and act for themselves. Therefore, it is of no use to appeal to their intellect and rationality and to admonish them:

Do not believe, think for yourselves.
Do not let others decide, decide for yourselves.
Do not let others act, act yourselves.

All that which I have now laid bare in my monologue is that which has already occupied me again and again throughout my entire life, just as many other things have. But now I have once again said some of it. However, what I am still interested in is related to what you think about the whole thing that has been going on for some time with vaccines, with which the further spread of the rampantly spreading corona disease is to be prevented?

Ptaah Your question had to come because it corresponds to your sense of responsibility and to logic. But my opinion about it is that all the vaccines that are currently being researched in various forms and which are supposed to be used quickly are absolutely insufficiently researched and will already soon be used prematurely.

Billy With that you mean that the whole thing corresponds to an ill-considered quick bleach, don't you? Such a thing could probably do more harm than good because it is simply under-researched, I think, because normally it takes our researchers 10-15 years or so for a real and good vaccine, in order to produce an impeccable vaccination product.

Ptaah That is right. But what is being done now is equivalent to what you just called 'quick bleach', namely vaccine products that, in a quick form, ...

Billy ... are concocted – excuse me.

Ptaah ... have been insufficiently and only carelessly researched; consequently there are no relevant and demonstrably valuable test results proving their efficacy and harmlessness. Consequently, the whole thing, as you have just said, can be described as hastily 'concocted'. Such an unresearched vaccine must not only be regarded as doubtful, but also as dangerous, because, as a result of the 'rapid bleaching' mentioned by you, there is a lack of any long-term trial and test experience that would guarantee the safety of harmlessness and effective efficacy of the product. However, that which is now in the process of being created as a vaccine against the corona virus, which is supposed to prove suitable, harmless and effective, to that the question arises as to its efficacy, namely whether this will have to be evaluated in a positive or negative form when vaccinations are carried out with it. However, I dare to doubt that, if such an insufficiently researched and untested medium is used for vaccination, it will be a preparation of effective, positive efficacy, just as I doubt that no counterproductive reactions and effects will occur.

Billy So you mean that such fast-bleaching vaccines could, under some circumstances, cause evil effects, for example, suffering and disease?

Ptaah Yes, and not only direct consequences, but especially long-term effects that can have a very long-term impact.

Billy So then the whole thing does not look very rosy; consequently every earthling, he or she, who lets himself/herself be vaccinated is engaging in a game of roulette, so to speak.

Ptaah You can say it like that, yes. But now, Eduard, dear friend, it is time for me, because I must carry out my duty. Farewell, Salome, and goodbye.

Billy All the best to you too, Ptaah. Goodbye dear friend.
