

About Exercising Responsibility by Those in Government

Excerpt from the 764th contact, Tuesday, 26th of January, 2021, 11:11 pm

Quetzal ... Then I would now like to talk about something that concerns the rampantly spreading disease-pandemic, because as I have been informed in this respect and as I have read for myself, everything that you have said with Ptaah in relation to this matter has been made publicly available on a website, which is also to be the case with what we are now going to discuss. When I think about everything that I know so far, that which is being said now will also be of significance and important to publish.

If the state officials of all the countries in the world do only half of what is necessary in order to stop the rampantly spreading disease, then there is no chance of stopping the pandemic. But I would like to know from you how you assess the government officials responsible for the overall safety of the population of Switzerland in terms of their intelligentum (In contact 750, Billy explains, "...these days practically no longer anybody knows that 'intelligence' is only the intellect-memory, but does not describe the cognition and also not the intelligentum, nor the information processing of the human being. That is why the so-called IQ is erroneously and foolishly 'measured' with the intellectual memory, namely with the term 'intelligence' – which we have already spoken about before. This is because 'intelligence' in reality has nothing to do with the 'intelligentum' and thus has nothing to do with intellect, rationality, knowledge and absolutely nothing to do with the extent of knowing the general performance capacity related to the intellectum." Please see contact 750 to understand more.) and their sense of responsibility.

Billy ... – You used an interesting term for those in government: state functionaries. I will remember this expression. But just as 'to each his own' is true, so is 'each to his own verbal expressions'. But you are asking something of me, Quetzal, which I cannot assess, because I do not know the ones in government of Switzerland personally, therefore I can neither assess their personality nor their character nor their intelligentum. That which I can judge, however, is their acting, decreeing and laxly enforcing – which is lousy, of low intelligentum and thus thoughtless, childish, incompetent – of all the required necessities in order to counter the rampantly spreading corona disease and make it disappear to such an extent that it is no longer an acute threat to the human beings. If one considers the imbecility alone, which was decided in the Federal Palace, that sporting goods shops, including ski shops, must remain closed, but the ski slopes remain open and skiing is allowed because there is supposed to be less risk of infection, then this is more than just crazily thoughtless and irresponsible. When one sees, for example, how 4 persons are taken up the mountains side by side on the ski lifts, sometimes without masks, as was observed on television, then one has to ask oneself regarding the persons who approve of this imbecility and still claim that there is less danger of infection when skiing than there is in a ski shop, to what extent the intelligentum, the ability to make factual judgements and the sense of responsibility are developed in those persons who utter and order such baloney. In my opinion, there is nothing of it and everything is just below zero ...

Quetzal You like to joke.

Billy Why?

Quetzal You are really joking to cheer me up!

Billy No Quetzal, I am serious, because this nonsense was actually enacted by the Federal Council.

Quetzal – If that really ... – , if such a decision has really been made then ..., well, then that is not only very regrettable and, moreover, completely irresponsible, considering the prevailing pandemic and its dangerous ability to infect, rather such persons should not be allowed to hold responsible offices in which the weal and woe of populations is to be determined.

Billy But by and large, it is unfortunately the case that such people are in government because the majority of the peoples tolerate it in the absence of their own valuable general education, lack of psychological knowledge and various other deficiencies in knowledge, but also do not dare to rebel against it within a rational framework and to call a spade a spade. This is one of the reasons why those of amazingly low intelligentum, thus the non-thinking ones – because low intelligentum means non-thinking, which has nothing to do with stupidity or any other damage to the consciousness, which is erroneously called 'spiritually ill' due to unknowledge – take to the streets and cause terror and destruction through demonstrations. There is not a single mu/shred of understanding and reason to be found in any single demonstrator, but only blind belief delusion with regard to the instigators of the demonstrations and brainless imitative instinct.

Quetzal For what you are saying now, you will probably be attacked and insulted, because everyone you cite with it will feel attacked in their person.

Billy That will probably be the case, because low intelligentum knows no boundaries, because the ones of low intelligentum will never understand that I am neither attacking their person nor them as a human being, but only objecting to, pointing out and attacking what they think wrongly, what they do wrongly and what they show with regard to wrong modes of behaviour in general, which is against human honour and dignity and thus against ethics. And in this respect, all Ausartungen (Ausartung: noun (pl Ausartungen) When 'Ausartung' is spoken of, no degeneration, that is to say, no disintegration of the genes, is meant. It is rather the human being's good nature badly falling away, that is to say, falling out of control. So, for 'Ausartung', it was decided to leave the German word in place in the English, and to provide a corresponding explanation. Billy, via Ptaah, received the following description for 'Ausartung' from the Plejaren linguists, in the English language: "a very bad get-out of the control of the good human nature", in other words, the good human nature has gotten very badly out of control.) correspond to the same moral unvalues, because all co-existing morals, whether they are know-all, conspiracy-theoretical, sectarian, financial, religious, political, military, governmental, just or unjust and so forth, can, in a healthy, correct, just framework, only be the same, without exception, because fundamentally there is only one ethic. This is always constant in its value one way or another, and the high values and foundations are given in the first place for a good, clean and honest dealing with oneself; secondly, in this respect, the dealings with the individual fellow human beings carry weight, and thirdly, the dealings with human society are to be mentioned, whereby with all three forms of dealings a free, cultivated, respectful, honest, fair and considerate togetherness is to be guaranteed. But the ethics are also present in a 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th form; namely, the fourth being life itself, which shall never be harmed in any form, and fifth, the planet, which shall never be adversely defiled in any form, and sixth, the ecosystems, which shall never be impaired in their function, and seventh, nature and all its entire fauna and flora, which shall be cared for and never impaired in any form in its flourishing and life, rather collectively all of it shall – in honour and dignity – be guaranteed a free, respectful and considerate nourishing and cherishing.

In this overall sense, ethics are a prerequisite and evaluation of the correct and creation-based actions of human beings and their fair conduct towards themselves, their fellow human beings and all life forms. For this reason, human beings ought to concern themselves with it in their thoughts and cultivate a methodical reflection with regard to their morality in order for it to always be at the centre of their ethics as the main factor and therethrough cultivate their specific moral high behaviour and action, especially with regard to its justifiability and reflexion with regard to their consideration of all necessary things, their reflection on their creational duty, their observation and consideration of all things of the environment, their thinking and reflection in logicalness, that is to say logic, and their continual reflection in their lives and existences to constantly make an effort to their best abilities to do that which is true, right, honourable and dignified.

Quetzal ... You honour me, my friend. I am honoured to be allowed to hear your words. Never before have I heard or read a more comprehensive and clarifying explanation of ethics. Your exposition teaches me something about which I have never before known anything, and also in all our dutiful learning in regard to our knowledge, to which we are integrated from childhood, nothing of the same kind is given. Thank you, my friend, you ...

Billy Please, Quetzal, that this, is yes ... OK, thank you too. Then I still want to say what I digressed from: because, in general, the people in the governments are human beings who actually do not belong in such positions, while others who assist in the same government and in the same positions cannot bring their abilities and their good ideas, considerations, cognisance and valuable decisions to bear because they are simply stifled by the rulers in their ranks; unfortunately a lot of things go wrong there. Therethrough, as a rule – during proceedings and debates and so forth, with ordinances and actions and so forth – only those get a chance who assert themselves by means of verbal Gewalt ("There is no English word that conveys the true meaning of the German word 'Gewalt'. 'Gewalt' is the brutal execution of elemental might and force, but it is far above all might and all force. 'Gewalt' exists in different and relative forms, one example being a 'gewalttätige Gesinnung' – expression from the character, personality, thoughts, feelings and emotions that shows the inclination to act with Gewalt. When human beings possess or carry out acts of Gewalt and it is not based in logic, then this usually involves violence, brutality, degradation and is terribly destructive." (Meier, BEA 2010, The Goblet of Truth, page XIII, footnote)) and dominance and who are able to override the others who know how to use their intellect and rationality, and put them back to zero and cut them off. Therethrough the horrendous nonsense and the damaging things for the populations come to a decision and come into effect instead of the good, right and valuable things.

You see, my friend, this is unfortunately the reality on our good old Earth with regard to governments, and this is not only the case with us here in Switzerland, but worldwide in all countries where the governors still interfere in the affairs of others, although it neither concerns themselves nor is it any of their business and, moreover, they would have enough to do to regulate and set everything right in their own country with regard to democracy, order, freedom and the people. But regardless of this fact, especially the Western states complain about other states, especially Russia, with regard to their modes of action and so forth, and interfere in things that do not concern them at all, wherethrough they also create enmity and bad blood, as is being done again, for example, with regard to the criminal Navalny, who returned to Moscow from Germany and has to serve a month's sentence because he violated a conditional prison sentence. And in this respect it will also come to pass, as I know, that the West, in particular those rulers of Germany and France, the EU dictatorship headquarters in Brussels, and the USA, who are stupid and brazen enough to harass Putin also with regard to the Nawalny demonstrations and to interfere in the Russian governmental, security and judicial decisions and above all to attack Putin, although Germany, France, the EU dictatorship and the USA are not involved in the matter, however, will provoke involvement due to their low intelligentum and irrational actions. And when I observe and consider the man Nawalny and try to analyse him on the basis of his physiognomy and his statements, then a frightening character picture emerges that is devilishly similar to that of the ex-US president Trample Tramp Trump. Also, his whole demeanour is practically the same as Trump's, moreover, his facial expressions and also that which is not visible in them to untrained outsiders, reveal a profound malice and falseness which he uses – as Trample-Tramp-Trump has done and seeks to continue to do – to incite the masses of the sections of the population that are of low intelligentum and follow him, against Putin. He wants to overthrow Putin because of his greed for might and take over the helm in Russia himself. And the incitement of his followers of low intelligentum also takes place from the slammer, where he is imprisoned; but how he is able to do that, I cannot understand, because usually prison inmates cannot simply influence certain parts of the population from inside in this form.

The fact is that, as a rule, it is always the Western countries that interfere in the concerns of the Eastern states and make demands on them, whereby Russia in particular is the most popular and most denounced and attacked country and also harassed with sanctions by Western countries since time immemorial. And it is precisely in this regard, namely regarding the sanctions that are being imposed against Russia especially by the USA, the EU dictatorship and Germany, that I find Putin's actions good, namely that he does not react at all to this attacking ridicule, just as he does not with regard to the lies of Navalny that the giant palace in the north of the country belongs to Putin, but which is in fact the property of a Russian oligarch. But of course, it is the same as always, that the stupidly-brazen followers of Navalny blindly believe his indoctrinating lies and do not question them. But, the intelligentum of Western governors and politicians in their excessive self-importance and their desire to be better unfortunately does not extend so far as to refrain from these attacks. Consequently, in this respect they are of bean-straw-like low intelligentum, because in this respect they are not able to think and to reflect on a matter, which since time immemorial has meant being of low intelligentum and foolish. Therefore, in order to keep up appearances, they are only able to talk big and with low intelligentum, and they consider themselves – and live under the delusion – that they are clever and that they have guzzled their would-be wisdom with shovel excavators. For me, at least, this is clearly visible, audible and readable on the faces of those who act up importantly on television and try to present themselves as knowledgeable and responsible, which however, not only looks grotesque, but effectively looks ridiculous with members of both sexes. However, this does not only apply to those in government, rather also to various virologists and other 'experts', namely not only in Switzerland, but also worldwide among the majority of those in government and virologists and so forth.

Quetzal For this purpose I have treated myself to watching a number of such programmes, namely both television recordings that were broadcast in various languages in Switzerland, but also in Germany and in various countries of the European Union, as well as in America, South America, China, Israel and Japan and so forth, but I can only confirm your words in this respect. Everything corresponds only to talk that is of low-intelligentum, is mendacious and slanderous and it is ridiculous, such as is exhibited by immature children who behave magniloquently in order to be accepted and to appear educated and clever. And when I analyse these incompetent national-householders you have mentioned, who have been given the power to lead the people and who have called forth irruptive fortune and disastrous misfortunes, I can only ascertain their incompetence in this respect, as well as the fact that their intellectum, intellect and rationality are of such inferior values as are characteristic of our adolescents. In my opinion, all persons who are liars and calumniators can be assessed in the same form. And this also applies to all those who insult you on the internet by means of lies and calumniation, whose names would be too shameful for me to even utter, because they are so loaded with calumnious filth and foul stench that I would defile myself simply by naming these persons. And this also applies to all those who, as a result of their pathological low intelligentum, believe the liars and calumniators and hold out their hands to them in order to record the hate-impregnated untruths of the liars and the calumniators in booklets and books, wherewith, above all, they make themselves known as unworthy elements of lies and calumnies, which, however, they do not recognise in their pathological low intelligentum. I have already wanted to say this many times, but I have always refrained from doing so. However, now I have seen that which are probably the dirtiest and characteristically most ausgeartet (past participle of 'ausarten', which means that something has got badly out of the control of the good human nature.) written lies and calumnies about you on the internet – which lists a human being who is obviously small-thinking due to hatred and untruth as the source of the publication, namely one who calls himself Daniel Gloor – which are now prompting me to speak.

Billy Yeah, yeah, you hit the nail on the head. Both with regard to those in government and with regard to the lies and calumnies, about which other persons have already contacted me and offered to take legal action on my behalf and to pay all the costs incurred. That is what Dr ... wanted too, but, on one hand, I do not want to deal with this filth of lies and calumnies, on the other hand, I am not vindictive like those calumniators, liars, enviers and know-it-alls as well as the equally pathologically hate-impregnated Pharisee-scribbler and the other "Tartuffe-yes-men" who resemble him, as Molière already depicted them as comedy characters. But I do not want to fight a running battle with these lies and calumniators even now, because I can only feel sorry for all those who are rotting away in evil hatred, because they demolish their own psyche and are dissatisfied in their lives; consequently they will never reach peace and acceptance of themselves, which, however, they can neither perceive nor understand themselves. Nor do these human beings notice that neither honest friendships nor acquaintances are dear to them, rather only people who are fixated on their own ends, profits and advantages, by whom they are cheated through and through and are only exploited and immediately dropped when they have done their duty and are no longer needed. They are therefore all poor and pitiful human beings. There is nothing more to be said.

You know, Quetzal, the following has to be said to the topic we were talking about before: only the majority of those in government are influenced in this way, as I said, because there are also those who think differently, who have a healthy intellectum and can be called intelligent and rational; namely the minority in the ranks of the power-obsessed rulers. This minority, however, consists everywhere only of a few unselfish ones who exercise their office for the benefit of the people, who moreover understand halfway or completely what should actually be done fundamentally well and correctly as well as effectively for the benefit of the respective population. And, as a rule, these are also the ones who always properly inform themselves about everything and anything and therefore, at the present time, know and understand what is actually going on with the rampantly spreading corona disease. Consequently, it is they in the governments who go along understandingly and want to do the right thing. Unfortunately, however, it is the case that they, as members of the government who are capable of intellect and rationality – with their good ideas, cognition and abilities to make factual judgements and have foresight – cannot get through to the overwhelmingly incompetent majority of the other government officials and cannot do anything, or even have to keep quiet in order not to be picked on or even expelled. As a result, it happens that everything or much of what should necessarily be done, enforced and implemented has no chance of being realised. In addition, it happens that 25 to 30 percent of the population stupidly-bravely insist on inadequate basic rights and organise terror by means of demonstrations, because these human beings are equally unteachable and incapable of grasping the seriousness of the rampantly spreading corona disease. Linked to this is also the lack of necessary cognitions regarding what measures are required, must be taken and enforced against the rampantly spreading disease. Therefore – because the whole corona calamity is still not fundamentally understood by those arrogant and incompetent governors and therefore the most urgent necessities are neither ultimately recognised nor that which should be done is done as a consequence – the rampantly spreading corona disease, which constantly surges up and down, continues to be rampant and claims more and more human lives. And all of this also applies to the querulous ¼ or 30% part of the population who, out of their own querulousness or through instigation by know-it-alls, truth-liars or conspiracy theorists, throw all warnings, orders and the fact of the existence of the rampantly spreading disease to the wind and insist on inadequate basic rights which are not designed to protect the lives of all human beings first and foremost in crises, such as in times of rampantly spreading diseases, through emergency decrees issued by the government.

Quetzal, these are the facts that I see and that I have already known from my time with Sfath. And I have also talked much about this with Ptaah and written everything down, which was also published on our FIGU website, but which has not been of far-reaching use; therefore the calamity is still rampant today and will continue to be rampant until .... It is true that parts of our FIGU information in this regard were taken up, about which it was then also reported on television, but of course it was not said that the information came from us and was simply cribbed. But that which is very pleasing about all this concerns our FIGU members, friends and acquaintances and all those human beings around the world who read our website and act according to that which is made known through the information. Many of these human beings thank us for the information we have published on our website, which should actually be made public by the governments, but which they do not do because they are incapable of being cognisant of the effective facts. But this also applies to the majority of virologists and so forth, who are not thoroughly enough behind the investigation of the rampantly spreading corona disease and consequently have not yet recognised that the corona virus cannot be put on the same level as the viruses known to them so far, which form from natural processes, become active and spread fatally. They still do not want to understand that this malicious virus was bred in laboratories, which happened as a result of an act of revenge by an American who started the whole thing in China in the 1970s in order to take revenge if the resulting rampantly spreading disease were then to be spread in the USA. But nobody is interested in that, especially not those responsible in the governments, the virologists, the WHO and all the others who do not dare or are of too low intelligentum to face the real reality and truth. Therefore, on the one hand, the WHO will not find the real origin of the rampantly spreading disease in China – where, regardless of the initial resistance, it is still able to carry out investigations – and if, under certain circumstances, something is found that corresponds to the truth, then it will be concealed.

What has now been said is, on the one hand, that about which there are sometimes also small beginnings on television, in which persons try to say something, but which is then suddenly simply cut off in the middle of the conversation and a sentence can no longer even be finished, as also happened on Swiss television when a programme about me was broadcast which, according to the programme announcement, should have lasted 20 minutes, but was then simply cut off after only 8 minutes without any words or an explanation. This, while, on the other hand, lie programmes – which were and are peppered with malicious calumniations of various persons – were and are being broadcast every now and again worldwide in full length – made with the help of hate-imbued people who demonstrably and with witnesses had personal experiences concerning my contacts.

Well, there are various other things, such as the fact that the new corona mutations have the characteristic of infecting a human being not only with one mutation alone, but that one can be infected by two or possibly even three of them, as well as the fact that a human being infected by one mutation and 'cured' can also be infected again by another corona mutation and fall ill. Sfath had already ascertained this, but whether this is known by today's virologists and doctors I have not heard yet, because so far nothing has been reported on television in this regard, just as no such report has been heard on the radio and, to my knowledge, nothing has been written in newspapers either.

If one considers all the wrong actions of the governments, their inability to assess the facts and the situation and the complete lack of the unavoidably necessary foresight, as well as, on the other hand, the lack of intellectum and the irresponsible actions of that part of the population that is querulous and rowdy despite the half-value orders given by the governments – even if the government orders issued are really only halfway correct and useful – then it is clearly already pre-programmed that the whole calamity will continue for a long time and will continue to claim many lives.

Quetzal Which is likely to be the case, due to all the prevailing irrationality and incompetence of that third of the population you mentioned, as well as of those state functionaries who are unworthy of their office.

Billy That's what I am saying. There would have to be a huge change in politics in order to change things for the better, but interfering in politics is not my thing, because I have always stayed away from it in every respect, which is also the principle of the FIGU. Therefore, from my point of view, which I consider to be rational, I can observe and consider everything in a completely neutral way and, in my opinion, also assess and express it harshly, namely even if certain people do not like it. And for this I think I have the right of freedom of opinion, just as every human being also has the right to choose and walk the path of his life himself/herself, which, however, he/she can only do if he/she is effectively himself/herself, does not act selfishly and to the detriment of other human beings and therefore does not have to be reprimanded. This means that the human being must think for himself/herself and decide and act responsibly – but not simply allow himself/herself to be guided and directed around, without will and without his/her own decisions, by some belief, be it by a person or an imaginary creator-deity – effectively solely by his/her own real, genuine and consciously clear thoughts and decisions, which he/she personally works out by virtue of his/her healthy intelligentum as well as his/her intellect and rationality.

That, Quetzal, which I have said now and if I may still say it now, unfortunately escapes the majority of humanity on Earth, by which I mean the intelligentum, the intellect and the rationality, and this also applies to certain organisations that make terror on the streets with demonstrations and cause destruction instead of peacefully seeking decisive changes in a rational way.

And one such errant organisation, which leads back to the little, unknowing Greta Thunberg, is the 'Fridays for Future' movement, whose simple-minded hangers-on are used as whiners and demonstrators, as dumb tools for demonstrations. This is regardless of the fact that the little Dumbberg and all her fellow howlers have no idea whatsoever what they are demonstrating and shouting about, nor do they understand that their howling brings no success whatsoever. This is because there can be no success as long as overpopulation still exists and continues to grow inexorably, wherethrough the planet, all ecosystems, nature and its entire fauna and flora will continue to be destroyed, annihilated and many things will be exterminated, as also the atmosphere and climate will continue to be impaired to the point of collapse, ...

Quetzal To all that which you say there can logically be no rebuttal, because all your explanations and expositions are so truthfully right that any rebuttal would be based on untruth.
